Comments on [REDACTED] Satellite CPW report

1. I think [REDACTED] is to be congratulated on his near-monumental effort. The organization is probably as good as any that can be devised. The items are well-selected and summarized.
2. Of particular value is the long recapitulation of Czech harvesting problems.

3. I agree that [REDACTED] not be asked to try to cover both Soviet and Satellite material.

4. If the Satellite CPW is to be done as a full-time job, the person doing it should either be conversant in some of the Satellite languages or should arrange with the monitors to pass along interesting or significant quotes in the original language.

5. The only negative comment to be made on [REDACTED] report is his inclusion of some economic items already published in the ABSTRACTS and a minor tendency toward unnecessary duplication between summaries and expositions.

6. A comment on [REDACTED] CPW No. 9 on USSR domestic difficulties: Its improved organization and content greatly facilitated processing here.
